

Make a spring-time nature mobile

Bring some spring cheerfulness into your house with a nature mobile.

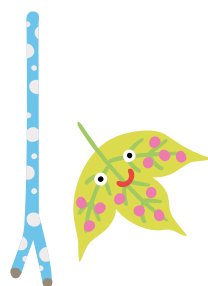

You will need:

- A long-ish stick
- Lightweight items to hang from your mobile, e.g., twigs, feathers, small pebbles, leaves, flowers
- String or wool, or ribbon
- Scissors
- Optional: paint and paintbrush

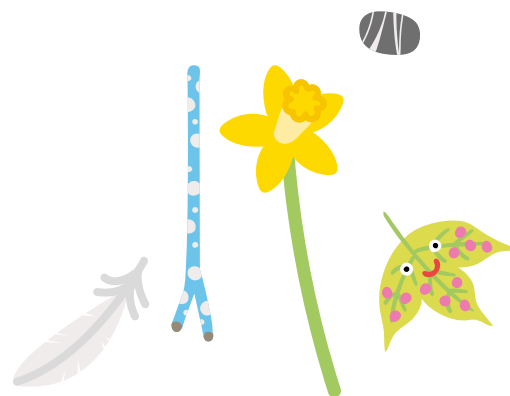

What to do:

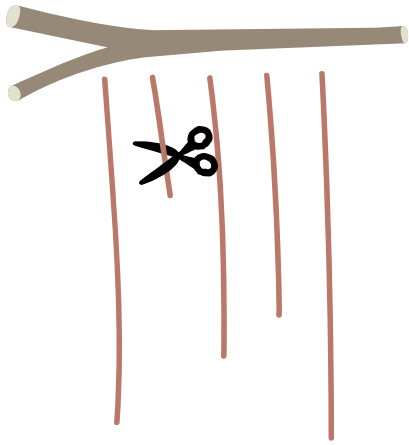

1 Collect some items from around your garden or local park. It's best to have objects that are fairly light so they'll hang nicely and not weigh it down too much at either end of your stick.

2 If you have items like twigs or small pebbles you could paint these with some bright, spring-like colours or add funny faces.

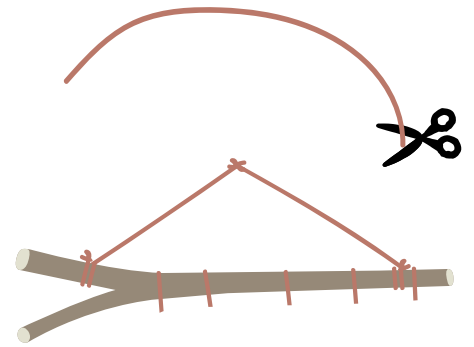

3 Arrange your stick and your objects in the way you would like to display them.

3 Measure by eye and cut your string into lengths. Make sure you have enough length to wrap around your objects and tie your knots.

4 Tie one end of the string around the stick, then carefully tie the other end around your objects.

5 Cut another, longer length of string, long enough to tie around either end of your stick and knot securely so you can hang it up.

6 Find somewhere nice to hang your Spring-time nature mobile then sit back and admire all your hard work.
